ELIGIBILITY

- Who is eligible to apply to the BC Cancer Nursing and Allied Health Research Grant?
 - The *Principle Investigator/Nominated Principle Applicant must be a BC Cancer health professional/clinician or BC Cancer appointed scientist (i.e. has a dedicated lab - staff & space).
- Can the BC Cancer PI have a Co-PI?
 - Yes. If applying with a Co-PI, they must be also employed or have an appointment at BC Cancer for at least the duration of the proposed project.
- Can Co-Investigators be external to BC Cancer?
 - Yes. However, if the application is successful, none of the funding can leave BC Cancer (no funding transfers to other institutions).
- Can an external researcher affiliated with BC Cancer apply as a Primary Investigator to the Nursing and Allied Health Research Grant?
 - No. They must have a Scientific Appointment at BC Cancer to be eligible to apply as co-PI, however they would be eligible to apply as a co-Investigator.

*For more information on the definition of Primary Investigator (PI) including who is eligible for PI status at BC Cancer, view the BC Cancer Research Ethics- Who Can Be a Principle Investigator on a BC Cancer Research Project policy.

GUIDELINES

- Can a PI submit more than one application as a PI?
 - Yes. Collaborations between basic scientists and clinicians require both a scientific and a clinical PI, and are highly welcomed and encouraged, but not mandatory.
- Can a Primary Investigator submit an application and be a Co-PI/Co-Investigator/Collaborator on other applications?
 - Yes.
- Are we allowed to have two Co-PIs on the grant application as co-PI or is it limited to one Co-PI?

- Yes. Co-PIs are allowed, however one person must be the Nominated PI as holder of the funds.
- For the CV's would it suffice to have a link to the online bibliography?
 - No.
- What is the format?
 - The format is standard: single spaced with 1 inch margins on 8.5" X 11" page
- What is the font?
 - Arial, 11 point
- Does the font size apply to figures, tables and graphs as well?
 - No. Smaller text in tables, charts, figures, and graphs is acceptable, as long as it is legible when the page is viewed at 100%.
- Do we have to use the form you provided or can we use our own as long as it follows the format?
 - You must use the standard application form provided.
- Is there a preferred citation style for the references?
 - Yes. Vancouver style (ICMJE).
- Will the funding require certificates?
 - Yes. Indicate on the BC Cancer coversheet yes or no if your project requires human ethics (research or other activities involving human subjects), animal care (studies involving animals), biosafety, or radiation safety certificates.
- Do you require quotes for purchased services?
 - No.

REVIEW PROCESS & EVALUATION

- Is there any information on who the review panel will be?
 - The review panel will be comprised of internal and external reviewers with clinical and research backgrounds as well as patient and family partners.

- Applicants should remember that the composition of the Review Panel is diverse. The onus is on the Applicant to explain and place the project in context within their disciplines in a way that is comprehensible to non-specialists.
